What can we expect from God? "For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end." (Jeremiah 29:11) The Lord was talking to a nation of people He Himself had founded to be His people. This nation had taken the free will God had given them and abandoned Him and embraced evil. They worshipped false idols, they sacrificed their children in fire, and they placed money above God. Look around; does any of this look familiar now? What can we expect when we abandon God? We can expect misery. What can we expect when we turn from God and embrace sin? We can expect judgment. What can we expect when we give God no place in our lives here on earth? We can expect to spend eternity absent from His presence. We can expect this despite the fact that God thinks thoughts of peace toward us and not thoughts of evil. We can expect this evil because we chose this evil for ourselves.

It doesn't have to be this way. "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red as crimson, they shall be as wool." (Isaiah 1:18) Oh Lord, what can we expect when we cry out to you from the bottom of a broken heart, "Lord, I am evil, I do evil things. I wallow in a black pit with no light. Oh Lord, help me! I don't even know what to do but I don't want to stay here. I can't stay here. Please help me, Oh Lord!" We can expect an answer. "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on Him shall not be ashamed. For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." (Romans 10:9-13) Wow! Now that is an ANSWER!

Is that all we can expect? No, it is not all we can expect from the Lord. We can expect love. "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love." (1 John 4:7-8) I have heard of a definition of love that goes, "Love is freely giving of oneself to another." So, when we accept God's love, we are actually accepting a piece of God Himself into ourselves, our very being. God has freely given us a piece of Himself. Brothers and sisters, how much better, how much more truly, how much more deeply can we love each other when we have God's love inside us? The answer is the difference between darkness and light.

We can expect joy. Does this mean we Christians never face adversity or go through a trial? Of course not. What it does mean is that we understand that any trial we face is a valley between two glorious mountaintops. Our joy in the Lord gives us the strength to face each adversity and go through each trial. "Then he said unto them, Go your way, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared: for this day is holy unto our Lord: neither be ye sorry; for the joy of the Lord is your strength." (Nehemiah 8:10) We can expect peace. This peace is not just the absence of conflict and strife. No, this is peace that is founded on the love of God and the understanding that His joy will never run out. "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." (John 14:27) Thank You, Lord Jesus. He always says things perfectly. We can expect longsuffering. God is not a "gotcha" God. He is not waiting for us to make a mistake so He can slap us down. He "suffers" our mistakes and as long as our heart is with Him, He is with us to help us and keep us going along our joyful path to Him. "But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth." (Psalm 86:15) We can expect gentleness. Just like loving and devoted parents, God is gentle with His children. When we accept Christ as our Lord, we become sons of God and joint heirs with Jesus (see Romans 8:14-17). "But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy." (James 3:17) We can expect goodness. I have said it before and I am saying it again. The Lord, He is good! This is both my testimony and my witness. God's goodness overwhelms and envelopes you. It is so real and so present in your life that it feels like you could just reach out and touch it. It is such a vital part of Him and it becomes a vital part of you. "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever." (Psalm 23:6) We can expect faith. Faith is kind of different. First, our father draws us and then we must make a leap of faith and accept His Son as our Lord and Savior. Then we walk with Christ and all these expectations (and more) are met and we get to know Him better and better and with each step along the way...our faith GROWS. So, this leap of faith turns into a walk in faith that grows into a personal relationship with Jesus and "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when He shall appear, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is." (1 John 3:2)

Sisters and brothers, I have run out of space. This is nowhere near the complete inventory of what we can expect from God when we accept His Son. However, God in His infinite wisdom has gathered all we can expect into one place. It is called the Bible. Read it and be completely amazed and completely blessed. Let's finish where we started in Jeremiah 29:11. God wants to give us an "expected end." What exactly is this end we can expect? Again, Jesus answers this perfectly; "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you, I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." (John 14:1-3) What a glorious end, that where He is, there we will be also. Amen. God Bless You and Keep You.
